 Uplink™
A Numerex Wireless Solution

Priceless Peace of Mind

With a basic wired system, your family's safety and your property's protection are only as strong as your phone line. So don't rely on your phone alone to keep you secure. An all-in-one solution, combining both hardware and network in one package, the Uplink™ wireless system provides the redundant, backup communication you need to give you priceless peace of mind. Twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week, you know your security is in good hands with Uplink, and there's no substitute for feeling safe and secure. So you can rest easy knowing you're always connected, always protected.

Always On Duty

- With Uplink's wireless notification, your security monitoring system always has backup, protecting you and keeping you connected to your monitoring service at all times.
- Uplink is the smart choice to install with your new security system – and Uplink's compatibility with most alarm systems makes it an ideal add-on for systems installed days, months or years ago.
- As more and more households eliminate phone lines, Uplink allows those with security monitoring to remain connected without the need to maintain a landline simply as a link to the alarm system.
- For structures that don't have phone service, such as a barn or cabin, Uplink provides the perfect alternative to secure properties that are remote and occupied only occasionally.
- The CellemetryXG™ network, the largest wireless data network in the Western Hemisphere, ensures a strong, dedicated signal that keeps Uplink on duty.

No Wires, No Worries

Wireless notification eliminates your security system's dependence on the phone company, as well as landline connections that can be cut or broken. So it's the perfect backup for your phone-based security system and those locations without phone service. And with Uplink, you're not connected with just any wireless system, but with CellemetryXG from Numerex Corp., the largest wireless data network in the Western Hemisphere. Your dedicated signal is rock solid, and your sense of security is stronger than ever.

A Cut Above the Rest

Millions of American homes and families rely on security systems for protection. But no matter how many locks, sensors or detectors you have, your entire system depends on one fine line between safety and danger – your phone line.

A severed phone line disrupts the connection between your home and the police and fire departments you rely on for help. Without a link to the help you need, your safety is at risk.

How do you restore your sense of security? Uplink™ wireless notification from Numerex Corp. Uplink is a dedicated, wireless communications solution for security monitoring that reports all alarms reliably, securely and instantly. And because of its flexible design, monitoring services and customers can receive alarm signals via phone, Web, email, text message or pager – any time and any place an alarm occurs.

stay connected. stay protected.
